castle heights spearheads lafayette circle park improvements

Lafayette Circle Park is getting a face-lift with the addition of a new planting bed and bench. Neighbors will be able to sit in the park for the first time and people driving by will enjoy viewing the enhancements.

Castle Heights residents donated the funds for the bench and perennials coming this fall. Massa Construction donated the concrete pad for the bench. The City's Department of Public Works installed a new water line and prepared the planting bed. Lyons Bank donated the larger bushes planted this month.
